Kansas City Sept 29 1922

Dear Folks:

Just a card from Kansas City Union Station[.] Looking around here to-day. Will get a few postcards of the place so you may see what the Middle West looks like. I do not see as it appears much different than Boston, Chicago or the rest. When you see one large city you have practically seen them all in a general way.

Very warm again to-day, for this time of year anyway.

Feeling fine, Regards, Myron
