

KANSAS CITY TIMES,

CANDIDATE SHANNON TURNS BOSS'S ROLES OVER TO OTHERS.

Joe Shannon, forty years a Democratic leader and veteran boss of the "rabbit" faction, shown reading a copy of his favorite pamphlet, "Thomas Jefferson," slowly is relinquishing the duties of a boss and has "gone statesman" Below are Peter J. Kelly, left, dominant lieutenant of Shannon, who is expected to succeed to the throne, and Dr. L. C. Johnson, director of the fire department, a rival of Kelly for leadership of the faction.
