

POSSIBILITY OF HOME RULE SUGGESTS "TOM," "JOE" AND "CAS" UNIFORM AND BADGES FOR "GOAT," "RABBIT" AND "HYBRID" POLICE.

GOAT RAMPANT

RABBIT COUCHANT

RABBIT RAMPANT

While opposing in debate the home rule measure which would turn Kansas City's police department over to the Democratic organization here, Senator Manvel Davis, Republican, Kansas City, today proposed full regalia for the police in event the bill becomes a law.

Naturally there would be "Goat" police and "Rabbit" police and, now that Cas Welch is cutting in, there would have to be Welch police, a sort of hybrid goat-rabbit brand. For convenience of those arrested, in order that they might know to whom their Nemesis owed allegiance, Senator Davis proposed distinctive dress:

Goat police—Uniform: Blue, green trimmings, green stripe down trouser legs, blue cuffs with green band. Badge for blouse and cap—Insignia, a goat rampant. Label, "Tom's Own."

Rabbit police—Uniform: Green with blue trimmings, blue stripe down trouser legs. Badge for blouse and cap — Insignia, a rabbit couchant. Label, "Joe's Own."

Cas Welch police—Uniform: Half blue and half green. Insignia, half goat and half rabbit. Label, "Cass' Own."
