Major Lloyd C. Stark
1401 Georgia St.
Louisiana, Mo.

Dear Major Stark,

Your good letter of June 29th reached me Tuesday.

Of course I am delighted at your good news. What did you think of the package of letters I sent you. I neglected to say in my letter why I cut the signatures off and kept them. but you will readily see it would be quite rude and unethical to send any one friends letters to another. But not being very well at the time these special ones arrived I sent them as they were. Just as soon as you are through with them and will return to me I will attach names and file in event I need them later.

I sincerely trust you are correct in your belief the organization will be with us, for with their prior strength augmented by $95,000.000 in cash to "Land the boys." Just where could we expect to get without their support. Of course I am immeasurably grieved and humiliated to make this confession. but you, of course know it is true.

Have you seen Mr. Igoe lately? From developments then lately you will see Mr. Igoe's strength.

If you anticipate coming to K.C. please drop me a line.

Poor dear Mother has been seriously ill and I have a trained nurse with her. She had the nurse tell me today that "she had a gorgeous Stark red rose yesterday." Thank you again for the box of roses and trees I believe every one loved.

My! My! I do hope all will be going real soon. Nice to be glad when Mr. P gets home though understand he told Mr. Aylward and Mr. Igoe for them to select a candidate for Gov. and get busy. This is not authentic but from "very close up information." I trust you will pardon my political slang. Let it serve a little more expressive.

Please remember me to your dear little wife of whom I hear so many lovely things. One of you write me a note any time you have a moment to spare. And until I see you lets not let us for a moment.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Harris M. Wilson
