My dear Jim:

Have just learned through Jim Aylward that you cannot attend our little party Friday evening, in anticipation of the State Cornhusking Contest to be staged here Saturday morning. As Mr. Aylward and Senator Truman also find it impossible to attend, we will call the party off and try to have it later.

Everything seems to be going fine, and are trying to catch up with our correspondence and also the work at the Nursery. After the Young Democratic Club Rally at Joplin, I am going to out out all possible speech-making until after the first of the year. Of course, we are ready for way emergency, and will jump in where necessary.

Glad to hear from you at any time, and to get any suggestions you may have to offer.
With all good wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,
LLOYD C. STARK.
