Major Lloyd C. Stark
Louisiana, Missouri

Dear Major Stark:

Ever since hearing about the photographs that Ella Campbell and John Maloney have received from you I have grown greener and greener-with envy. May I have one too? And for fear that the supply might become exhausted at once, I promise not to say anything to any one about having received it. Thank you.

Since March 10 I have been out of the running- a dislocated and slightly fractured wrist, then on top of that flu-but am now back in circulation, went to Mr. Douglass' office this noon for my supplies. Am honoring you by writing to you first.

It looks to me like this is a pretty well organized club. At least, a dependable bunch, and each one will do our utmost to prove it so.

My youngest sister, Frances, who is a sort of protegee of Mr. T. J. Pendergast, is very anxious to be of some help to you. Will it be all right for her to get members from among her coworkers at the Court House? I didnot get to see Mr. Douglass or I would have asked him. Of course all these people at the Court House are for you any way, but Frances just wants to sign them up for you.

I should like so much to be in Fayette when you open your campaign; but the rule here at the Library is one cannot be absent from duty to attend anything of the sort. Can't you do something about it? (In 1932 when I went to Governor Park's inauguration I was "Docked" one day's salary, but I shall always be glad I went.) It was then I swore allegiance to you if you ever ran for Governor.

Give my kindest regards to Mrs. Stark,

Most sincerely,
Martha Murphy
