

HIS MASTER'S VOICE

AND THEN HE RAN FOR GOVERNOR

The Pendergast machine has become known throughout the nation as the most ruthless and corrupt of all political machines, past or present. Pendergast said "Politics is a business." He picks the candidates for the Democratic party in Missouri—a label stolen from true followers of the party of Thomas Jefferson—swings the big fraud vote in Kansas City behind them and they must perform after election.

It is political hypocrisy for Missourians to ignore or deny the existence of this corrupt political machine.

It does not depend entirely upon Pendergast. It has outgrown the boss. His passing is all prepared for. Heirs to the throne now are helping run the party. They have put the biggest vote pad of all time on the Kansas City election books for this election. It is their way of showing they are capable of the leadership that will be handed on to them by the old boss.

These new henchmen of Pendergastism are more ruthless than their old leader. The truth of wholesale election frauds in Kansas City, political graft and wild spending in the state government need no repetition. The state government has collected and spent more taxes the last four years than ever spent or collected by any administration in Missouri.

Even members of the organization are worried over the fact the "boys" have gone too far in stealing votes, spending the taxpayers' money, padding payrolls, passing out fees to machine lawyers, robbing the old age pension fund and turning relief into a cheap political racket.

Lloyd Stark refuses to discuss or debate the fact he will be the recipient of the big Kansas City vote steal at the November election.

If Missouri wants to free itself from the grasp of this corrupt political machine it must defeat the Pendergast machine picked candidates. The only way to bring about honest elections and honest government in Missouri is to elect the Republican candidates, headed by Jesse W. Barrett, candidate for governor, who is fearlessly pledging himself and his fellow candidates to destruction of the machine if elected.

Shall Missouri submit? Shall Missouri continue to be ruled by election hoodlums who steal enough votes to maintain the balance of state power? Shall Kansas City election crooks rule 3,200,000 persons outside Kansas City?

Regardless of Lloyd Stark's refusal to answer these questions, regardless of his personal qualifications, he has sought and accepted this fraudulent vote in the hope of becoming governor of Missouri, the Pendergast machine's governor of Missouri.
