TAVERN-In county; living quarters; seats 65; slots pay all overhead; large stock of beverages, nice equipment; making real money; will invoice; reason for selling death in family. Address D 66 Star.

Kansas City, Missouri

June 29th 1937

Governor Loyld B. Stark,

Jefferson City, Mo.

Honorable Sir:

The law abiding Citizens of this state are now wondering, as to the sincerity directed toward the elimination of slots, and other forms of gambling throught the state. The above attached clipping was taken from this mornings issue of the Kansas City Times.

The add speaks for its self regarding the lucrative appeal where the slots are permitted to operate.

It is useless to mention how numerous they are with in this City and county. They are at all times within plain view of public paid officials.

These same officials were elected to faithfully and honestly enforce the law. I should imagine it would be an easy matter to locate those in obscurity, especially when attention is thusly directed to the lucrative power of these little bandits with in the columns of our largest daily news paper. We shall continue with hopes that we may in the future elect to office men courageous enough to enforce all our laws.

Sincerely,

A Stark supporter
