HON. JOHN T. WAYLAND OVERRULES THE U. S. SUPREME COURT AND APPOINTS A DEMOCRAT.

A REPUBLICAN AFTER HOLDING THE SINECURE FOR THIRTY YEARS IS DEPOSED.

AN INTERESTING STORY FROM WASHINGTON.

Hon. John T. Wayland, who lives in Kansas City but who has held the position of Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms since the Senate became Democratic, two years ago, has an unusual personality. He is a Democrat of Democrats and believes that to the victor belongs the spoils. The fact that a Republican has been in office until he has become hoary with age makes no difference whatever to Wayland. He believes that they should all be ousted in behalf of Democrats whether they have been in one day or forty years. Before the Republican administration quit Washington they put almost every available place under the civil service in order to protect the Republican politicians which it had placed in office. The employees around the Capitol building could not be reached by this order, so when the Democrats took charge of both branches of Congress, decapitation of Republicans became the order of the day. However, there were a number of Republican employees who had been on the payroll so long that the official decapitators did not have the courage to remove them. One of these was the policeman whose duty it was to stand at the door of the Supreme Court. He was a good Republican from New Hampshire and had been in office about thirty-five years. He had been at the door of the Supreme Court longer than any Judge on the Bench and was regarded by everybody as a fixture for life. He had nothing much to do but to look pleasant and draw his salary of $100 per month. A good Missouri Democrat has been in Washington for sometime looking for a position. He was perfectly willing to take the sinecure at the door of the Supreme Court but nobody had the courage to
