Dear Tom:

I know how busy you are with the approaching election on your hands. But, I wish you would please take the time to talk personally with the bearer of this letter, J. J. Brink.

I think he has been a valuable man in party work - I think his is an unusual case. About that you will judge, when you can give him the necessary time.

I hope, and in fact, I feel assured, that the fact that I have taken a position in opposition to present policies has not, and never will disturb our personal relations.

As ever, your friend,
