Dear Tom:

I know that you do not want to get involved in any out-state matters, but as the Congressmen all have to run at large, the question will have to be faced of who is to be supported here.

I remember that you told me that you thought there ought to be a man from each district, and I think that a very wise conclusion. You will, perhaps, remember that Frank Lee has run for Congress two or three times in the old sixth district. He was always defeated. I do not think he is going to try and run this time, but, in any event, I want to say a good word for Lee B. Ewing of Nevada.

Ewing was not for me when I ran against Breckinridge Long, but he got rounded up and afterwards turned out all right. He is a man of good ability, and I think he has a good chance to be elected. He is a wet and has so declared himself.

I believe it would be a good idea to keep him in mind as election day approaches. Somebody else may come up from that district I don't know about, but as between him and Frank Lee, Ewing is by all odds the best man.

Yours sincerely,

K
