Dear Bess:- Glad to get your letter in the first mail today. Had one from Mary too and she said they were nearly frozen. Hope you don't get any colds. Maybe it will keep you from it. I suppose Margaret is having the time of her life in the play. Wish I could slip in and see it. I've done nothing more on apartments. Both were rented when I got back. Maybe 2929 will have a vacancy. Let's hope so.

The St. Louis Star Times had three pictures in a row showing your old man presiding over a hearing. I didn't know they took 'em - and the Post Dispatch had another good editorial. I'm not sure I'm doing right after that.

Had a fine dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and the twins. The boys were all somewhere else. The Col. and I had a fine visit and settled all the ills of the country. I came back to the office and studied the farm and reorganization bill and went to bed at ten o'clock.

I missed a call from Shannon by being away from the hotel. He's going home Wednesday. Jim P. said he hoped I'd keep him here but I'm glad he's going home. He says Stark will run against Clark and not against me. Well we'll see. Farley told me they were not going to help the Gov against us on any count. I hope he was speaking for the White House, but you never can tell. I'm to see F.D.R. when he gets back from Warm Springs.

Take good care of yourself. Don't take cold. Kiss Margey and tell her I want my two letters this week. Love to you Harry.

[P.S.]

The clothes just came. All OK.
