Ft. Leavenworth, Kans. July 22, 1923

My Dear Bess:

Yesterday was a long old day in spite of the fact that we worked somewhat on our problems. I spent the evening preparing the talk I should have made Saturday but didn't. Capt Sperry was very much pleased with it and I guess the balance of them were, although nothing was said about it.

Mrs. Sperry is much better so the Capt[.] said. We are still in the midst of the Kansas-Missouri war and are having a good time at it.

I see that the Journal is still having a pick at the County Court. If Mr. Dickey had gotten his streets accepted he'd have been pleased with the operation of the court.

Our regiment is to put on a parade this afternoon in which I have no part, thank goodness.

I am very sorry you didn't get that other special if I'd known they were to deliver it the same day I'd certainly have send you another. I really did look my eyes out thinking that perhaps someone would have a good heart and bring you up. It will sure be good to see you Thursday.

Yes you can come for me Sunday afternoon if you like and I won't have to do so much packing. I'm crazy to see you.

Love XXXX Harry.
