In the United States Senate Washington, D.C. July 1, 1935

Dear Bess:

Well I got two letters this morning so you are in very well with me today. I moved down to the LaFayette yesterday and it was one hot job. I studied the situation over and decided that maybe the Continental would be too handy for people to find me and also there are one or two Senators who live there and who like the flowing bowl rather well so I thought I'd take the Lafayette. And besides they gave Stonebreaker a job after the Hamilton had fired him and I felt obligated.

Paul Dillon came in to see me at 7:30 this morning and Mrs. Curzen was in just as I left to see Mr. Prawl the Chairman of the Communications Commission in the interest of K.M.B.C. and Henry Chiles.

The old lady is in bad with the Dept of labor because of an indiscreet letter she sent out on campaign funds. Clark has taken her to task about it, but I'm not going to jump at her about it, although as usual she's put herself and the Missouri administration in a bad light here. Paul Dillon is all worried about the St. Louis situation and Matt Murray. They are in the midst of a big fight down there. Igor and the Mayor are fighting and I can't worry much. Mr. Church of Independence running K.M.B.C. got cited for fake advertising and I had to ask for leniency for him and I think I got it for him. Well it'll be a grand day no matter how hot. Huey is speaking and I'm sending a message with lots of love. Kiss Margey. Harry.

[P.S.]

Where's that letter of Marg's?
