Dear Bess:

I just arrived in this big city. Left Washington at 3 P.M. It is now 8:10 E.T.S. 9:10 E.D.S.T. If you can't translate those letters it will be too bad. Bennett was supposed to come with me but got cold feet at the last minute. He and I have been entertaining the Gov. and Caskey Collett and Sam Hargus all day. They came to my office at 10 o'clock and as soon as Clark arrived we went to see Garner and Bachman and Bulow the Senate characters.

I had dinner with them last night and lunch today and then beat it up here. They had been to see T.J. and I must try to find out what they did tomorrow. O'Malley and Paul Dillon are over at the Commodore and I don't know whether to let them know I'm here or not. They have a muddle in St. Louis which they want me to help settle. I don't much care about getting into it. The Highhat Mayor was in Washington twice and failed to call on me and I don't see why I should go to any trouble for him do you?

I enjoyed the short note from you today; all I wish was that it was longer. We may get done next week. Won't that be something.

Kiss Margey and love to you. Monday is Mary's birthday. Please call her.

Harry.
